

504 Boyz, Life Is Serious

Chorus 2x's]

Life is serious out here on these streets

[Erica Foxx]

Got us curious but were just trying to eat

[Krazy]

Why cry now inhale the pain is gone

I know it was your baby daddy I saw you kiss him

Get your life back together it's time to move

Hold up little boy screaming Jesus I miss him

Ain't nobody gonna treat you they way he did

Now you grab him and smile remember your man

He left you with biggest gift he made a kid

With no money for the baby never held a job

Even though the life you want it didn't go as plan

What you blushing I know you love my nigga

When the rent was due he always grab the chopper and ride

You was mad at the funeral seeing his hoes

In the casket at 22 he didn't figure

You chose to love my nigga that you met in the Ville

But he kept it real with you like an thug suppose

You gonna always love my dog even though he got killed

[Chorus 2x's]

Smile know Kendall I know you miss my nigga

[Master P]

Two kids to raise without an father figure

You and Bobby Phills always suppose to be together

And your youngest son screaming my daddy going to heaven

Cause my nigga had G and you know he could rise

And everytime you see ball make you wanna cry

From the ghetto to the palm trees

From the streets to the big league

We pour liquor caused he moved on

And at the funeral made jokes about his birthday

You shed tears but you stayed strong

His last words was same time but a different place

[Mac]

[Chorus 2x's]

And a time I burn a cross

For the nigga I lost

One slug took the life of my young thug in cold blood

R.I.P. to every daddy on Ken D

I'm missing ya'll till this cold earth send me

Sippin a sprite

Breakin my life

Till I bed wrinkle

When the day turn night and just write

Dippin these hoes till I plant sequel

Running around with that desert eagle

I got a call from my uncle state

Like it was a bit legal

Said it will be a while for they let him out them gates

Drop the phone as the tears hit the tip of my ears

I'm gonna disappear if he gotta serve more years

Chorus 2x's
