

54 Seconds, Strange Day

I don't believe in anything you ever said.
I said to you, I'm strung out on sympathy,
You don't know what I'm going through and,
This is not enough, to stop it all from falling

Baby I know, there couldn't be a stranger day I know.
Baby I know, I wouldn't be the same again, I know.
Baby I know, caught in a world,
Where no-one ever really makes it all alone.

There's really nothing left for you, to come and take away from me.
This is the best day of my life,
When you cannot change my friend! Yeah,
You are not enough, to stop these wheels from turning.

Baby I know, there couldn't be a stranger day, I know.
Baby I know, I wouldn't be the same again, I know.
Baby I know, why in the world does no-one ever really make it all alone.
