

A.A. WILLIAMS, The Echo

Oh my heart, be still, I can't,
I know that you're lonely
But I'm not ready to go
And I'm afraid of change, displacing
All of my senses,
I'm numb and defenceless.
If only you knew
I can't prioritise you
I'm alone and there's nothing you can do.
Oh my heart, stop, I'm trying
To find the meaning in
All that I'm yearning for.
And what is love, if all I find
Harmful and bitter?
I'm not sure I need it.
If only you knew
I can't prioritise you
I'm alone and there's nothing you can do.
