

A Blinding Silence, A Walk Alone

cheers to life... and moments when they define what broken hearts can't deny.
and to hope
sincerest in it's design yet manifested to blind and my eyes, they can't always see the lie yeah sometimes it's hard to find and what more do you want from me i've given every part of me.
the closest things are hard to see.
here's to spite vindictive in it's design the shallowest part of mind cheers to love the ocean that does divide but sometimes it's hard to find
and what more do you want from me i've given everything you see.
and my eyes,
they can't always see the light yeah sometimes it's hard to find
and my eyes,
they can't always read your mind yeah sometimes it hard to fight in my head I kill the lie, I kill the lie in my head I kill the lie, I kill the lie and walk alone
and my eyes, they can't always see the lie
yeah, sometimes it's hard to find.
