

A Bloody Canvas, Midnight Strolls

my pale skin constantly reflects into the sky a subtle hint that the stars will fall tonight the stars were never on our side i take my midnight stroll coincidentally as the clock tolls twelve twilight shadows beam onto my reflection but to you I'm invisible the mood of the moon is a sweet serene lullaby an angels chorus hold your breath while i take this devils kiss upon your neck immortalize my dear, i wont say goodbye again immortalize my love, i wont leave this way again too many nights have been spent saturating from just a goodbye kiss at twilight we'll be together i'll hold you forever this romance slowly kills me when we arent together oh, how she lusts for my lips in the silence i strike
immortalize my love, i wont leave this way again again i'll whisper
the stars were never on our side
but i'll hold you forever
