

A Burning Water, These Ruins

Under the amazing sun the ingrown tone speaks to cancel out the tears but i remember well
of once remembered states of emptiness
the water is rising
in your eyes to bleed and see these empty walls are forming the tides inside the rediscovered sky I only exist as the sun in truth as the pages turn now
these words of yours they say to me theres something more you want from me this heart you break this life you take I'll be in end
and with raised fists and oceans in our eyes we fear our fears we fear we once controlled the sky we fear right to the end this one time right to the end.
