

A.C. Newman, The Heartbreak Rides

Just out of the woods and yelling down the mountains
All I really wanted was to go downtown
And so we ride
The heartbreak slides
Rushing at the modern sunset to your window
Gestured with the bleach in hand, she said "let's go"
"L.A." she cried
The heartbreak rides for free
Yo ho (x4)
California adds some casual bedlam
Something in the basic swing of things led them to Victimless crimes
The heartbreak climbs
Playing with your words and come into headlights
Placards on the interstate; we want the good life
"L.A." she cried
The heartbreak rides for free
Yo ho (x7)
Just out of the woods and yelling down the mountains
All I really wanted was to go downtown
And so we ride
The heartbreak slides
Rushing at the modern sunset to your window
Gestured with the bleach in hand, she said "let's go"
"L.A." she cried
Yo ho (x7)
