

A Change Of Pace, A Farewell To A Friendship

in a dream in a place of the far reaches of this mind i have seen a true nightmare with a kiss of lovers' lips one a friend the other just a memory
it still hurts
when i think that once she was mine
because im lost for words with one last breath
for me to take from you
now gasp for air
theres nothing left
for me to take from you i guess its only right to give someone what they need even if its nothing they ever wanted in the first place ive seen with my own two eyes the hurt and pain that love causes thats why i wont let you go down that road
too emotional overdose if i had her again everything would be alright but nothings alright and nothings ok
when you live in a memory im lost for words
with one last breath
for me to take from you
now gasp for air
theres nothing left
for me to take from you
just a breakdown of the heart a lost for words that wont mean a thing a tragic ending a farewell to a friendship that meant nothing at all you let her in you let her win is there anything else to break or bend a bond as strong as ours now hallow all throughout
im lost for words
with one last breath
for me to take from you
now gasp for air
theres nothing left