

A Change Of Pace, White Lines And Lipstick

Oh dear, could this be true?
It's all lie's we've told
The minds of such devilish boys
Your dreams bought and sold
Give me those bright blue eyes
And those luscious lips
I'll sing this song for you
If you shake those hips
And I know that, you want it to
'Cause I see it, like I see through you
Well, I'm walkin' that white line
And it's no big surprise that I can't sleep anymore
It's just these little pills
That make my dreams feel real and I'm still craving more
And this show's come to an end
And now the fun begins
Just step into your skin
And let things unfold
Your body moves me girl
And now you're whispering
Everything I want to hear
A puppet with no strings
And I know that, you wanted to
'Cause I see it, like I see through you
Well, I'm walkin' that white line
And it's no big surprise, I can't sleep anymore
Well, it's just these little pills
That make my dreams feel real and I'm still craving more
Well, I'm walkin' that white line
And it's no big surprise, I can't sleep anymore
Well, it's just these little pills
That make my dreams feel real and I'm still craving more
(I'm still craving more)
