

A Cursive Memory, The Piano Song

Welcome to my dreamiest nightmare when your so close but you never get there
There's some things you still need to say to me
Because My love, Your my farthest Destiny
I never thought I'd say this again
The three words that you never said
The one phrase that breaks the heart in two
Because angel I love you
If I could turn the clock again
The same three words i wish i never said
The phrase that breaks a heart in two
Because angel I love You
Angel your the closest thing
I've wanted most but you still can't see
I say five vowels and three syllabels
They're unnoticed and you're so dreamable
I never thought I'd say this again
The three words that you never said
The one phrase that breaks the heart in two
Beause angel I love you
If I could turn the clock again
The same three words I wish I never said
The phrase that break the heart in two
Because angel I Love You
