

A Cutthroat Kiss, Scream Silence Now

It's far past the nightfall and we're still awake you whispered to me a sweet serenade Bloodshot eyes never cry
Courageous hearts never die
Scream silence now
I've always been listening to cries so deafening
From the bottom, from the bottom of my heart and the top of my lungs
if I can lose my voice, I'd lose it just for you This blanket, I tore it apart just so you know that I'd keep you warm Bloodshot eyes never cry
Courageous hearts never die
Scream silence now
I've always been listening to cries so deafening
From the bottom, from the bottom of my heart and the top of my lungs
if I can lose my voice, I'd lose it just for you
The air I breathe tonight is stopping at my lungs
The air I breathe tonight is stopping at my lungs like the words we say are stopping at our lips at our lips..
