

A Day In The Life, Photograph

Maybe her eyes will shine tonight
Maybe she'll dress up and look as good as ever
I wish I lit the match that burns in your eyes
I wish I lit the fire that burns in her heart
Actually I didn't do anything, I wasted all your time
Maybe I'll just close my eyes and dream
I'll wish myself so far away from her
Maybe I'll try to start my life over
Maybe I'll try to sleep it off instead
That's what she said, just go away forever
I don't want to see your face again
That's what she said, just go away forever
I don't want to see your face again
Actually I didn't do anything
Wasting all your time
wasting all your time
Wasted your time
That's what she said, just go away forever
I don't want to see your face again
That's what she said, just go away forever
I don't want to see your face again
