

a dream too late, 14th And Knott

The sound of silence in the streets
Echo off the cars, the way everyone's asleep
Seems to be the start of dreams
Wandering this town will never get you far
The time has come
The time to run
Do you remember? Do you remember
That the freeway takes you anyplace?
Just like this life can, just like this life can
Take you anyplace but I can't take you
Have you lost the motion in your heart
'Cause it's been so long? Since you walked out of the door
And learned to just move on from dreams
That never came around to being second best
Your time has come
It's time you run
Do you remember? Do you remember
That the freeway takes you anyplace?
Just like this life can, just like this life can Take you anyplace but I can't take Goodnight feeling
When summers leaving
It's a goodnight feeling
When summers leaving
It's a goodnight feeling
When summers leaving
Do you remember? Do you remember
That the freeway takes you anyplace?
Just like this life can, just like this life can
Take you anyplace but I can't take you