

A Fine Frenzy, We Stood Up

We are not frightened anymore, we stood up, we stood up and there are two of us there will be more, they'll show up, yeah they'll show up they'll show up
blame a change of mind a seismic shift in times they told us not to fight but we'll fight it till we die cos' we are not frightened anymore,
we stood up, we stood up
and so they sunk every ship we sailed but we stood up, we stood up and they fought hard, but somewhere fighting failed they're all shook up, they're all shook up all shook up steel and concrete break beneath the steady waves of fearless hope and grace in kindness there is strength.
