

A Girl Called Eddy, Did You See The Moon Tonight

Did you see the moon tonight
Did it shine the way I asked it to
By the time it made it's way to you
Instead of me, inside your room tonight
It will dance across your floor
Make you remember more
Then you might want to
But I want you to remember me
If you see the moon tonight I hope it finds you all alone
Maybe sitting by the phone
Kind of sad and glad to be unhappy
'Cause your missing me, like I'm missing you
If you see the moon tonight, if you do, don't close your eyes
You might get a big surprise
I might just fly across the ocean and materialize
Then I could tell you that it's true
That I'm the one who turned it white to blue
Just for you, just for you
Tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight