

A Guy Called Gerald, Humanity(Feat.Louise Rhodes)

These days I find
I'm wasting my time
On all the little things
That shouldn't concern me
Weighing my heart
With such confused emotion
Letting anxiousness in
Where peace should prevail
It's just my humanity
Getting the better of me
It's just my humanity
Getting the better, getting the better of me
I've been working on it
Just trying and working on it
Knowing the soul to be lighter
If I could just shed this weight
Or just carry this weight
Without objection
So weight become lightness
And light becomes weightless

Oh, it's just my humanity
Getting the better of me
It's just my humanity
Getting the better, getting the better of me
I'm lifting the lid off
Eventually holding my head up
And clarity where once there was proud
I know this place and smile inside
Oh, it's just my humanity
Getting the better of me
It's just my humanity
Getting the better, getting the better of me
It's just my humanity
Getting the better, getting the better of me
Getting the better, getting the better
Getting the better of me
It's just my humanity
Getting the better, getting the better of me
