A-ha, Time And Again

The sun brought me The moon caught me The wind fought me The rain got me The road sent me For years bent me The stars overwhelmed me Time and again

But now I can't see the stars The star is a thing I can't see And now I don't feel the same To feel is a thing I can't be

Earth crushed me Fame brushed me The streets hushed me As life touched me Time placed me Events dazed me Love saved me Now and again

But now there can be no love Love is a thing I can't be And there can be no trust Trust is a thing I can't see But now there can be no love Love is a thing that can't be Now I can't be so strong Strong is a thing I can't be Time and again Time and again

The sun brought me...
