

A Hero Next Door, Right Here All Along

It's safe to say we are aware exactly how we ended up right here,
We can't go back 'cause it's too late,
We've lost all hope that we had hoped to gain.
But it's alright because we're still alive,
And we're not going down without a fight.
Right here, right now, let's give it a go.
There's no telling how long we've got, and I don't wanna know.
So why not say let's give it a go?
It might turn out all you wanted was right here all along.
So here we are, don't be afraid, try not to look back at the mess we made.
We're starting out just once again, we'll be okay it's just a matter of when.
Are you thinking what I'm thinking now?
I know we can turn this thing around.
Forget the past, embrace the future.
