

A Jealousy Issue, Midnights With The Monster Squad

you'll never forget us kill the clocks to stop the tick moulding moments by the minute stretch these days to burst with severed hands and rusted gears let's savour each beautiful beat of this wretched gang of hearts brilliant reds are fast and fading in the blink of blackened eyes the blue decides to bury us alive let's blow a hole in the sky tonight splatter it with tattered silver no wish is safe from harm we're a deadly mix of idle minds and boiling blood paint this town with a bang and a crash staining your glass with cocktail blasts disaster is just so appealing we'll be the death of us all you'll never forget us.
