

A Life Once Lost, The Wanderer

A Life Once Lost

Iron Gag

The Wanderer

First in line

To cash in on what I created

Last in line

To beat the dead horse

I try and try

But who cares at the end of the day

I figure that you only wanted to make me feel this way

So that you can feel better about yourself

I will dance across the floor

I'm pointing fingers and laughing

Because you can't destroy me

Second best

I had nothing more to give

Is it safe to say that none of this mattered anyway

So that you can feel better about yourself

I will dance across the floor

I'm pointing fingers and laughing

Because you can't destroy me

Now I've become the wanderer

Forced to become a man

Who is searching for something real to feel

So that you can feel better about yourself

I will dance across the floor

I'm pointing fingers and laughing

Because you can't destroy me

Now I've become the wanderer
