

A Love Ends Suicide, Heroes Of Faith

It's been eight years in this disaster
I'll break the grip of the demons that held me so long
To many memories have never past me by so fast
Lives will never be the same in this tragedy
Tonight we stand alone in the face of all this Tonight we're left alone in the face of all this
We will escape this harness that burdens us no more
I'll tear off every limb to show you how we stand
Darkness has brought you better days
I'll tear off every part to show you how we stand
When darkness takes us away
The greatest heroes of faith will make it home
The world we know will never be the same
Our generation is set for non existence
One hundred miles away
This true disaster will never bring
Us down without a fight
Hate
It's time to breakdown the walls
That kept us apart so long
This world will never be the same
Only the heroes of faith will make it home
We are the age of no defeat
We are here until the end
We're non existent without hope
Your eyes will never see the light
And in the end the greatest heroes
Of faith will make it home
