

A New Found Glory, Broken Sound

Well, I wake up
Something more than what I'm supposed to be
Something more than I have meant to show
What was I supposed to know
That I've wanted and I've waited?

Well, I wake up
Something more than what I'm supposed to be
Something more than I have meant to show
What was I supposed to know
That I've wanted and I've waited?

And I can be the one
To show you that life's not simple enough

And I can be the one
To tell you I've held this back for too long

And my heart aches
These feelings I've held inside for you

And my heart aches
How can I stop the pain?

And I can be the one
To show you that life's not simple enough

And I can be the one
I've held this back for too long
