

A New Found Glory, My Solution

Well, I feel there's something wrong with my life
But that's the way it should be
I really hate it when I lie to you
But what does the truth mean to me?
Well what went wrong, your back is turned again
Is this the beginning or the end? Is this all wrong?
You are more than a friend
Such a position that I'm in
Well, you know, I'm trying so hard
To live my life without you
And I tried so hard
I got you now inside my heart
It kills fueled by your love
In the end, I'll call your name
I'm letting go, it's time for you to know
That all this time, I've been so wrong
I'm letting go
The time's more fast
Than slow
And everything is there for you
Well, you know when I go away from you
I lose control
My body is feeling cold like a winter day
Then I close my eyes, a picture so clear
Then I close my eyes