A*Teens, Back For More

When you think the party's over Look over your shoulder We'll be coming back for more I know I might seem weird One day I'm around, the next I disappear This is a crazy act But I won't think I'm kissing you 'til that's a fact 'Cause always, ever after and more When you think the party's over Look over your shoulder I'm at your door, coming back for more Dancing in the moonlight 'Til the break of daylight Like we did before We'll be coming back for more We're on a one way ride And all I need is someone like you by my side You saw the movie too We'll ride into the sunset like they always do For all days, all nights I'll hurt some more When you think the party's over Look over your shoulder I'm at your door, coming back for more Dancing in the moonlight 'Til the break of daylight Like we did before We'll be coming back for more

We'll be coming back for more If I'm still number one The one you're looking for I won't be gone for long No, I'll be back for more When you think the party's over Look over your shoulder I'm at your door, coming back for more Dancing in the moonlight 'Til the break of daylight Like we did before We'll be coming back for more When you think the party's over Look over your shoulder I'm at your door, coming back for more Dancing in the moonlight 'Til the break of daylight Like we did before We'll be coming back for more When you think the party's over Look over your shoulder I'm at your door, coming back for more Dancing in the moonlight 'Til the break of daylight Like we did before We'll be coming back for more
