

A Thousand Falling Skies, Almost Heaven (Intro)

A Thousand Falling Skies

Almost Heaven (Intro)

I packed my bags and caught the next train to this mountain side Where i could watch the sun set with tears in my eyes
I can sit here for days letting the cancer fill my lungs Letting the tears wash away the pain that i always seem to mask behind a smile
Where I could watch the sun set with tears in my eyes [x4]

Yesterday seemed so important to me and today i lost myself within myself How could i get lost in what was mine Rivers run there course, I guess and sometimes i just run but today i never stopped i never stopped running from you
