

Aardvarks, For God & The Nation

Under the flag of honour marching towards the front for god and the nation facing the battlestorm young men join the colours heroic deeds in mind the idea to kill the enemy drives them really mad

For God and the Nation win the day Don't surrender til the battle is won but they're falling one by one

Roaring guns and aircraft Destruction still remains Horrors of trenchwarfare Shattering their brains Stumbling over corpses
How long will you survive?
You came to fight for glory

For God and the Nation win the day ...
