

Aaron Sprinkle, Not All Bad

As I take this immunity
I'm wondering what you would do to me
If you found out
You know that you could've walked away
Without a scratch but you had to stay
With your watered down friends

So I cry myself awake
To keep from sleeping all day
And I think I'm borderline
Losing my mind

You wrote my name with an underscore
It made me realize what I'm good for
And it's not all bad
Before the laughter had just begun
Around a table with everyone
Is too good to be true

I follow lines that never end just to reach you again
I get tired and then i break down
So I will rest and in the daybreak I will find you and be Forever your friend again

So I cry myself awake
To keep from sleeping all day
And I think I'm borderline
Losing my mind
So I cry myself awake
To keep from sleeping all day
And I think I'm borderline
Losing my mind
