Aaron Sprinkle, Useless

I think you see me The way that you'd like see A man that gets nothing done

Ithink you'd like me to be As useless as i seem And leave everything undone

(chorus) But the little boy I used to be He had a conscience you could see And he held it in his hand He did not understand That he would soon be me

I think you'd like to know A place that I won't go And spend some time

You say you need a friend To take you by the hand And sit awhile

(chorus)

If you could only feel this It's nothing to believe I ask an honest question I get a silent scream

When I hear the answer It's nothing I could see If someone could have warned you It takes much more than me

But the little boy I used to be He had a conscience you could see And he held it in his hand He did not understand That he would soon be free
