Aaron Tippin, Every Now And Then (I Wish Then

Once in awhile my mind takes a trip Down memory lane where two fool kids First found love in my old Tempest Girl, we were something Ribbons in your hair and white cotton dress Hearts on fire, both scared to death We lost our fear and our innocence To sweet, sweet loving

Now honey, I aint complaining No girl, Im just saying

~CHORUS~

Every now and then on a night like this When the south breeze blows, baby I relive That laugh, that touch, that kiss Oh honey, how sweet it is Every now and then when the moon's just right Those old feelings come back to life And I wish I could turn back time somehow Every now and then, I wish then was now

We parked down along Dry Creek Road "Burnin' Love" blasting on the radio We were green but it never showed Baby, we were red hot Hotter than noon in mid-July You could have lit a fire with the flame in our eyes We left nothing to be desired We gave it all that we got

So honey, lets take a little spin And turn up those old feelings

(Repeat Chorus)

BRIDGE

Cant you feel the warm wind kickin' up
Thats our cue baby, sure enough
Yeah, every now and then when the moons just right
Those old feelins' come back to life
And I wish I could turn back time somehow
Yeah, every now and then, I wish then was now
