Aaron Tippin, I'D Be Afraid Of Losing You

I've always lived on the edge of life I don't fear the dark of night I may be crazy but I'm not a fool I'd be afraid of losing you

I've looked danger in the eye I'm not afraid to live or die But after all that I've been through I'd be afraid of losing you

I couldn't face a single day Without you in my life Your sweet embrace is all it takes To keep me satisfied

I've always been a restless soul Hungered for the winding road But a rebel heart still knows the truth I'd be afraid of losing you

I couldn't face a single day Without you in my life Your sweet embrace is all it takes To keep me satisfied

I've always lived on the edge of life I don't fear the dark of night I may be crazy but I'm not a fool I'd be afraid of losing you

I'd be afraid of losing you I may be crazy but I'm not a fool Yes I'd be afraid of losing you
