

Aaron Watson, Reckless

i still think about us in the rush that we felt with the rag top down and the radio blasting you were riding shot gun in nothing but a bikini and a seat belt looking better than the law should have been allowing

(chorus)
we hit the corners going 90 lovin' blindly fallin' head over heels over you every feeling that we felt was a feeling that felt brand new and you looked just like an angel with that cross on your necklace you were young, i was wild, we were reckless we'd drive on down to the river burnin' up those hot summer nights laughin' at the cowboys getting crazy pickin' fights

it wasn't funny when that deputy, caught you and me steaming up those windows and how your daddy never found out about it honey, heaven only knows

I looked into your eyes and I promised you forever
I believed it with all my heart I just didn't know any better gettin' over you took years aww despite those tears I cried I'd do it all over again all for the thrill of the ride

Chorus

Young, wild, and reckless
