

Aaron Watson, When Those Aggies Move To Aus

G                    D                    C

You're the devil's daughter in disguise

G                                    D                    C

So don't try to hide the fire in your eyes

D    C                    G

You must be stupid cause you just don't have a clue

D                                    C                    D

Even hell frozen over is warmer than my love for you

Chorus:

G                                    D                    C

When all those Aggies move to Austin

G                    D                    C

And Beaumont is covered in snow

G                    D                    C

When the wind don't blow in Amarillo

C                    D                    G

Darlin' then you can come back home

G                    D                    C

You sure can shake your little round behind

G                                    D                    C

But your hour glass figure won't buy my time

D    C                    G

You know how to work it Lord knows it's worked before

D    C                    D

This time you leave your butt will have the imprint of the front door

Chorus:

Bridge:
