

Abby Dobson, You Will Find Your Way

You know youre past
A mid-way mark
Yeah its too late
To turn back

Tomorrow will be
Clean of this day
Dont worry so much
You will find your way

And you wish it would rain
Cos youre thirsty again
But it wont hurt a bit
Like a kiss on your lips
Take a bite, heres a light
Theres a hole in the night
Just go through
Its for you
Itll be alright

Theres still time
If we run
Some reasons are Best forgotten
The night wont wait forever
It keeps getting better
And better

Hold me close
Pull me near
There is nothing to fear
Let it go
Like a song
Cos the frost is all gone
Theres a light in your eyes
You can drop your disguise
Cos youre so brand new
And theres so much loving to do

Look at you now
Youre high as a kite
Head full of stars you are Traveling light

Youre on your own
But youre not alone
If you look around
You will find you are home

And you wish it would rain
Cos youre thirsty again
But it wont hurt a bit
Like a kiss on your lips
Its for you

Hold me close
Pull me near
Let it go
Like a song

Cos the frost is all gone

Theres so much loving to do
Theres so much loving to do
Theres so much loving to do
