

Abby Travis, Of Eyes Remain

I fear my time is next
Remove me from this mourning
Daylight seeps through walls and awning
Whispering of death

I fear that I might fly
Like a raven on a current
See a tiny little serpent
Slither right into my nest

Lie awake remember say goodbye
Cherish all your memories when they die
Close your eyes and listen, say goodbye

I fear my charm is hexed
That mirror cracked and cut my hand
And epoch's word of sand
Makes it matter even less

I'll always see their eyes
Although I doubt we'll meet again
Happy in the end cuz they're
Gone on to what's next

Lie awake remember, say goodbye...
