

Abdullah, Now Is The Winter

The toll of my deep inner life
Will force this world to make amends
I know that you've lost your way
Your empty life will never save you
You'll melt away from here

My own decline
Brings you to mind

The toll of my deep inner life
Will force this world to make amends
I know that you've lost your way
Your empty life will never save you
You'll melt away from here

My own decline
Brings you to mind
