

Abigor, The Redeemer's Return

It feels so cold tonight
My skin has turned to ice
Dead and gone are all emotions
Breeding pain enwraps
All the tears that wash away
Life's unreal
Values of joy and love
Pale are my eyes & frozen my heart
Time and space, life and death
Pale is my mind & stone cold my soul
I am the accuser that recreates hell on earth
For waits in yours restrictive
Three dimensional world?
Too late, too cold & none hides of the truth!
For I have seen & the prophecies foretold
Abstract realities crash into the void
A heaven built on non-provable facts & a lie?
The wisdom bursts & my veins as I
Tremble in & unreal delight
And even it hurts & to belong to the knowing
Am I not & the fulfillment of all quests
Trust me you that & bears & the nuclear winter in his soul
I'll pour out my soul
To show my inner strength
And wouldn't you agree
If was the highest excitement you've felt?
So give me all your heart and I will take your life
For I am the reborn & beast that will Extinguish all & your mortal kind
Or might it be a too & radical step & to immortality?
But I thought & you couldn't await to enter
My heaven so accept it & cause our time has come
I rise & you fall
