

Aborted, An Odious Emanation

An anomalous host emerges
From the breach in the collective conscious
Spreading relentless callousness
In the benevolently open minds
Raptured and indignified
Become like the keeper
And send his message forth
Become like the keeper
Harrow all those to cause Turmoil
Anchorless madness
Now adrift in torrents of carnage
A searing voice of screeching razors
Disseminating his verdict under the snapping of cartilage
Debilitate and torture the very body of all creation
Engrave our flesh with anger
His throes are ours to spread
Derail their train on thought
Its consequence, our intent
Inhaling every soul
We mould his thought
Gather - devour
We mould into his form
Shedding light as fire for the moths
For the meek who will take no part
Let them wander in their delusions
While we are in the shade of truth
Shedding light as fire for the moths
For the weak who will take no part
Let them rot in their delusions
We draw you in to burn in our illusions
Excise the book of creation
An Odious emanation formed
Ostracise this worthless defamation
An Odious emanation reborn
Become like the keeper
Harrow all those to cause
Turmoil
An anomalous host emerges
From the breach in the collective conscious
Spreading relentless callousness
In the benevolently open minds
Odious emanation
