

Above Symmetry, Catatonic Coma

Captured by a strange power
Forced to live alone
No longer able to choose
What to do
I try to sustain calm
Because the calmness is my survival
Am I gone forever
Will I stay in here
No one around me
Will nothing ever change
The bitterness is growing inside me
It's getting stronger for every day
I try not to hate
But the hate has become my survival
Am I gone forever
Will I stay in here
No one around me
Will nothing ever change
Well, now the memories fade away
(The memories can't be taken away)
You know I need a place to stay
(I will be taken by you anyway)
Now get inside these walls and pray
(Get on your knees for me, you better pray)
My mind drifts away...
Am I gone forever
Will I stay in here
No one around me
Will nothing ever change