

Above Symmetry, The Purpose

Seeking my fate
Seeking the one creation, the sole salvation
I must unite with my enemies
Magnify the mission
Realise what's to face
Why does it feel so wrong
This is my direction... I hope
And if you tell me the truth
Tell me why don't I follow :
All that I think is real, I fight for it, lie for it
Chained by my prophecy, the purpose of finding me
My journey ends, I ask myself
Is this my reincarnation
My mistakes I neglect
And I'm forced to forget
Hurt by the ones who will set me free
All that I think is real, I fight for it, lie for it
Chained by my prophecy, the purpose of finding me
Only I know ray horizon
I may hold the secrets of life
Did God create me, or did I create God
