

Absurd Minds, Creators

long ago we were a perfect being, so we fall into deep spheres, so called dreams. we had to find out what it means to be the one or to be the other thing.
you are the process, we are the children.
you are the stage, we are the actors.

we are creators as well we are created ones.
we are the father, the same way we are the sons.
we are the actors, you are the stage.
our self is what we recreate.

the way we think has created our life. we are the total of everything we've ever thought.
let's learn the art of dreaming.
let's have a nice dream and be the one
or be the other thing.
