

Absurdus, My Kingdom

If you could see through my dreams
And if you would fear my fears
Would you stand by me?
Would you sweep my tears?

Follow me into my darkest realms
Hallucinational, lonely sanctuary
A kingdom where only strongest survive
Where all but grief is a lie

My kingdom

Through these fields of twilight I ride
In the depths of grief I dwell
As my yearning is growing too deep
I find my end in an ice cold stream

I fly...
Through these mighty landscapes of night
I find...
Myself trapped in this kingdom of mine
