Abyssaria, Unhallowed Reflections

The prophecy of their tongues The announcement of their words Break away from their embrace

Follow you, follow not them Follow the way of your mind and soul

Threatened by their believe Manipulated by their lies Stop their longing to enslave

I left everything behind I created my own kingdom I am the force from below

Follow you and follow not them Break away from their embrace

Follow the way of your mind and soul Stop their longing to enslace

Unhallowed Reflections leading me through the night Their hateful rejection show the darkness in their "light"
