

Acceptance, Permanent

some time ago I keep losing track, over again all these promises won't turn golden, until you touch them

it's permanent
nothing is permanent
it's permanent
we'll be watching your back following indecision's lasting for years indecision's lasting for years some time ago memories in my head are starting again speak it fast don't move in slow running through the country maybe they will find me

it's permanent
nothing is permanent
it's permanent
we'll be watching your back
be watching your back

like a river in Arizona, dried up before you were born it's starting up again
it's starting up again
it's starting up again

it's starting up again

it's permanent
it's permanent
it's permanent
time is pushing us back (following)
