

Accidental Superhero, Sometimes

i got your message
it screamed aloud your dancing and your singing gave it a shroud we all may have laughed as they dragged us down now all the clear is mundane with a broken, crooked crown

sometimes
i don't feel your love
sometimes
i can only hope to stay alive
sometimes
you come and take me away

i feel like the chatter cleared my head but always your ways left me better off for dead the chance of reason shook away the way

now all is a sunday for a man who's lost his way

sometimes
i don't feel your love
sometimes
i can only hope to stay alive
sometimes
you come and take me away

don't lean back too far as the colors fade to gray don't breathe in too much or the weight will blow you away do you give a little in?

all that's left is sometimes right your happiness danced away far away... to the distance in the twilight

sometimes
i don't feel your love
sometimes
i can only hope to stay alive
sometimes
you come and take me away