

Ace Enders & A Million Different People, Over Th

So let's just say that I am over this
I am done with it and moving on
So let's pretend that it was perfect
That it was worth it and all is good
But it's hard times to make it seem alright
Just don't give up 'cause we're not done
See the world has taken hold
And it's trying to pull you from me, from me
So let's pretend that I deserved it
I worked and earned it, would that be wrong?
Now moving on, never regret it
Please don't expect it 'cause we're on our own
But it's hard times to make it seem alright
Just don't give up 'cause we're not done
See the world has taken hold
And it's trying to pull you from me, from me

So don't let go just keep holding on
See life is full of tolls
And we just keep paying for it, for it
So we need to think
That our hearts beat louder than shotguns singing
We need to feel
That our minds work harder than factory wheels
And we need to know
That we're worth much more than a credit score
Yeah, we need to know, yeah, we need to know
So we need to think
That our hearts beat louder than shotguns singing
And we need to feel
That our minds work harder than factory wheels
So we need to know
