Acheron, Hekal Tiamat

We are the fears that lurk inside your mind As ancient race of a vampiric kind Ruthless predators in this world we dwell Live the law of fang and claw, with no heaven or hell

Hekal Tiamat, Temple of the Dragon

We are the future, the future is our brood The undead gods revealing hidden truth Vampires are few, but we are also many Weak humans alive, show our prey is plenty

Those amongst our kind embrace the given creed Animal instincts are how we strive and feed Our list is for the hunt and lifeforce energy The temple now awaits the final catastrophe
