

Aching Beauty, The Hundredth Name

Rising prophecies, assuring, frightening, comforting
A truth seems to rise from inevitable signs
Or do we see signs where we want to see them ?

This was written :

<< Those who have intelligence numerate the number,
Cause this is a number of man >>

The Great and The Judge, The Vengeful, The Omniscient
The last of His Names shall prevent us
God's aegis against God's wrath

Seeking for the Supreme Name,
The one no one can utter,
No one shall pronounce,
The Ineffable Tetragram

But there beyond the tome
Lies the imprecation :
Clouds and skies getting dimmer,
Blindness gets the reader

The Great and The Judge, The Vengeful, The Omniscient
The last of His Names shall prevent us
God's aegis against God's wrath
