

Acid Android, Egoistic Ideal

you're compounded by only your egotistic ideal you act as if we're connected but there's no bond at all we might like time same movie but difference in our views you know it's all natural but you seek for something in sync simple

emotion's ok

best to understand

from the very start there never was a reason at all so if you try to explain it will only make it worse what you think, believe is right on but only one can say your opinions are only right within your selfish ways

everything is yes and no everything's yes and no

(make up your mind)

free to say black and white say it is black and white

(get up decide)

you don't care if moon's the sun don't care if moon's the sun

(don't run and run)

if you believe that you are right then you must be all right
