

Acron, Sons Of Sterility

can't see any light out there in nothingness a cold wind is blowin' I fall into the void

a fall so endless, slowing my thoughts down so painless, so deceiving paralyzing my feelings my hands are empty as well as my thoughts it's me who asked for answers and didn't give none now I'm just falling - sterility all around trying to understand when and why self-consciousness died passing under dark skies suffering ancient pains without a hope dwellers of a sad world sentenced to live a life far from the stars at the end I can see which was the cause for this paralyzing state of impotence stepmother ignorance surrender to my fears, conquered by selfishness I want to be reborn to a new life hoping it's not too late wretched, abandoned, lonely sons of sterility that's what we are will someone please tell me there's nothing more we can obtain from life?

help me, mother
give me one more emotion take away my pain
hold me, embrace me heal me from this sterility which grinds my heart
