

Across The Border, My Rose

come to me and take away
and take away my fears, dry all my salty tears and sing a song just for my ears my rose, dry all my tears and take away my fears

come to me and fill my heart
and fill my heart with light come fill my heart with light, like a fire lights up the night, I'll never forget this flame inside my rose that burned so bright this flame that burned so bright deep inside

Where is the sun since the day I left and your eyes turned red was there a sense in all the words that we said or is it all just a part of a game that I don't know or was I gone before I came thought of sorrow oh I hope...

Oh I hope we meet again, oh my rose, oh my rose and all will be the same, oh my rose, oh my rose under sunshine and rain, oh my rose, oh my rose

Inside of me, there is a fool of spring, his heart is sore he wants to love you forever and one day more and beside him there lives a ghost, don't want to see you again they are like brothers and the name of one is Cain oh I hope...

Oh I hope...

I'll let you go if you want to cross this river alone life is too short to spent itself beside a phone the people say "hey, time will heal your wounds, stay clean" a million pounds for those who invent a time machine oh I hope...

Oh I hope...
